Fairfield Homes, Inc. Hires Vice President of Property Management

Lancaster, OH – Fairfield Homes, Inc. is pleased to welcome Amy Young in a new role for the company, Vice President of Property Management.

In this position, which was created as part of the company's strategic growth plan, Amy is responsible for developing, implementing and managing the strategic plan for the growth and profitability of the property management division. Amy is also responsible for all aspects of property operations including talent management, business development, operational excellence, financial management and regulatory compliance. Additionally, she is responsible for developing a highly engaged and talented team who, together, deliver the highest level of service to customers, optimize sustainable growth and profitability, and maximize the value of Fairfield Homes' assets and investments.

"Amy has proven herself as a flexible, creative and innovative problem solver who brings organizational vision, strategic insight, and leadership to turn challenges into opportunities," said Jennifer Gorsuch Walters, President of Fairfield Homes, Inc. "We look forward to her positive and effective approach, as well as her ability to build and maintain productive relationships both internally and externally to advance our growth and profitability."

Amy is a resourceful, solution-focused leader who effectively coordinates client relations, financial responsibilities, staff mentoring and process integration. With more than 20 years of leadership and industry experience, she is a profit-oriented, proactive decision maker with a proven record in all facets of property management, including revenue growth, operational oversight and management, investor relations and employee collaboration.

A Certified Apartment Property Supervisor, C6P, NCP, HCCP and AHM, Amy received her associate degree in Applied Business Management at Central Ohio Technical College.
